

What Children say?

....Lunchtimes rules are cool

....I love to get the new lunchtime tickets

....I like being nice

....The staff really listened to us when we came up with ideas to help us line up at lunchtime, it works

much better now

....I like getting a sticker for eating my lunch

....I love sitting at the 'top' table with my friend

The training for our lunchtime staff has provided lots of positive ideas, tools and strategies that really work. It has been well worthwhile.

Is your school making the most of lunch times?

Lunchtime supervisors and other support staff are an integral part of any school team. Their skills, knowledge and attitude can make or break lunchtime experiences. By involving support staff and lunchtime supervisors, in the life of the school, lunchtimes can be turned around – with benefits for everyone.

Lunchtimes

Staff feeling overwhelmed at lunchtimes?

Are lunchtimes at your school a time for trials and tribulations? Are teachers having to spend too much time sorting out squabbles after the lunchtime break?

Lunchtimes can be a challenging time for children as well as the 'Super Visors'

Many schools testify that PM in school is nearly always more challenging behaviour wise than AM.

Our work in schools has shown that if lunchtimes are peaceful and productive, then the afternoons can be peaceful and productive too. Becoming times for enjoyable and meaningful teaching and learning.

To bring out the best in others, we need to bring out the best in ourselves

Barbara Colorose

Cornwall R time can provide a comprehensive training and support session for your Lunchtime Supervisor's to support them in promoting positive behaviour and managing challenging behaviour in the dining room and playground

The 3 1/2 hr session covers

- Individual & team strengths
- Identifying issues and areas for change
- Safeguarding, Health & Safety
- Roles & Responsibilities
- Rules & Boundaries
- Praises, rewards and repercussions
- New tools and ideas
- Audit and evaluations
- Future planning & development
- Hands on support during lunch-time

Teacher Quote

It's lovely to celebrate after lunchtime rather than have to sort out arguments?

Lunchtime supervisor quotes:

.....I was very skeptical about the training today, but now I get it and I'm fully on board.

.....The playtime support really made me think about what I focus on and highlighted different ways to encourage positive behaviour.

Many Schools in Cornwall are seeing the benefits of this type of training, resulting in:

- Happier, more relaxed staff and children
- Improved behaviour & less bullying
- Improved respect and caring for others
- Less time taken up sorting out issues at lunchtime
